

One of the first decisions you make as a new parent is choosing the right care provider for your baby. After all, your baby's care provider will have a big role to play in helping you get your little one off to a healthy start. It's a key partnership for you and your baby. Your child's doctor will help them grow into a thriving toddler, teenager, and young adult.

It is important to start your search early. We generally recommend about three months before your baby is due to arrive. This gives you time to review your options without feeling rushed.

Hugh Chatham Family Medicine is proud to provide highly qualified providers at each of our eight convenient locations throughout the region.

If you would like to arrange for one of our providers to care for your new arrival, please call the specific office, or visit hughchathamfamilymedicine.com/appointments.
